SHAPING MY FUTURE

*M*yself is Ashish Pardale working as a software Engineer (Database Administrator) with India's premier Market Research company.

I would like to begin this letter by thanking my school & yes the all elements of my school which includes adorable teachers & friendly colleagues & not but the least educative & enthusiastic environment provided by school. It has been a pleasant time I spent with my school 'Shramik Vidyalaya' & what I got is bright future with scope to achieve the desirable goal of life towards success.

Whenever we schoolmates meet, always discuss on school & academic life spent over there & interestingly at all times we come up with common conclusion that, 'Those were the days & that was the school we can not get anywhere else.' Teachers here not only let us bombard with studies but encouraged us for all round personal as well as professional growth. That's why besides been a vernacular medium I managed to climb the professional stairs. It's because of the dedication my school taught me.

I usually come across with the people who like to compare the opportunities for vernacular medium students & English convent school students. But for me it used to be very simple task to tackle the higher education & profession because of the exposure I got from school & now I find myself positively competing with characters from all over the world.

As a developing school I would like to praise the efforts of management for keeping standard of teaching & education as high as any other standard school. I remember the occasions where & when school encouraged us for participation in every interschool event even through big names in front of us & we used to enlighten the school name across the boundaries.

Yes & it has the diamond on its cap that is 'Ideal school' award. I my school proved that it is ideal in every aspect of student & education & all round development.
